Friend, of Horse Cave, Ky., officiated. The wedding was a quiet affair, only a limited number of the friends of the couple being present.

DAVIS WAY MEETING

Will Be Held at the Court House This Morning.

INTERESTS EIGHT COUNTIES.

And All Are Expected to Be Represented By County Officials.

An adjourned meeting of the Davis Way Association will be held in the county court room at 10:30 o'clock this morning.

Invitations have been sent to the county Judges of McCracken, Marshall, Trigg, Todd, Logan, Simpson, Logan and Warren counties to come and bring as many representatives as possible with them. It is planned to build the highway from Bowling Green to Paducah.

Rush C. Watkins, of Louisville, will attend and Col. Bennett H. Young and Capt. John H. Leathers, both keenly interested in the Lincoln Way, will come with Mr. Watkins.

It is confidently hoped that every county along the proposed route will be largely represented. This meeting was adjourned from last Saturday, at which time only one county sent delegates owing to a misunderstanding.

All citizens of Christian county are invited, especially those along the road from Fairview to Gracey.

HORSE SHOW'S USUAL LUCK

The Rain Interferes With Success of The Exhibition.

CLOSED LAST NIGHT

Hot Contests In Most of The Rings All Three Days.

The Pembroke Horse Show had an auspicious opening Wednesday and the attendance at night was good.

On account of the heavy rainstorm Thursday afternoon there was no show at night, but the bright morning yesterday gave every prospect of a fine concluding program. The Journal says of the stock on hand:

"For the first time in the history of the horse show, there was not stable room on the grounds to accommodate all the horses, a number having to seek stable room at the livery stables.

Among the horsemen present to compete for the attractive premiums, and the number of horses brought by each, follows: Barham, Son & Butler, Milan, Tenn., 9; W. S. Nicoll, Woodburn, 10; John Daly, Franklin, 5; N. H. Stringer, Franklin, 7; Baber & Whitesides, Gallatin, Tenn., 10; J. S. Ray, Auburn, 8; R. S. Brown, Clarksville, Tenn., 2; S. A. Reeves, Pembroke, 3; B. P. Eubanks, county, 5; T. M. Thomas, Hopkinsville, 3; W. A. and E. H. Dickinson, Trenton, 15; Harry Searl, Clarksville, Tenn., 5. In addition to the above, a large number of ponies will be on hand to compete in the pony ring this afternoon. D. C. Williams, of this city, and Dr. G. P. Isbell, of Hopkinsville, have fine strings of Arabian and Shetland ponies which will be seen in the pony rings."

The horses this year are not only unusually numerous, but the quality is also unusually high.

The energetic directors have worked hard to make the show a success.

The officers are: Eugene Kelley, president; J. L. Barker, vice president; Douglas Graham, secretary and treasurer. The directors are: Dr. J. L. Barker, W. H. Jones, T. D. Jameson, Eugene Kelley, W. A. Radford, Dr. G. P. Isbell and Douglas Graham.

As we went to press yesterday evening, the weather was again threatening with strong indications of rain.

Those present were Misses Rebecca Gaither, Mary Hayes, Ruth Oldham, Martha Kelly, Maria and Ellen Davison, Messrs. Absolutely No Necessity for the Professor to Meddle With Household Affairs.

Professor Jenkins was deep in a philosophical discussion with a visiting classmate, when his neighbor,
Mrs. Ely, knocked at his study door and then opened it without further ceremony.

"O professor," she gasped, from the threshold, "your house is on fire!"

"Thank you," the professor responded, with smiling courtesy. As Mrs. Ely turned away, he added:
"Would you mind mentioning it to Mrs. Jenkins as you go out?"

Mrs. Ely giggled hysterically.
"But I can't find Mrs. Jenkins! She is not in the house."

"Not in the house?" The professor was momentarily dazed. Then his countenance brightened, and he visibly threw off all anxiety. "But she must have made some arrangements before going out. She always does. I am sure cook or Martha knows what she would wish done in such unusual circumstances."

Just then the fire department dashed up to the back door, and with it Mrs. Jenkins. She soon appeared in the study.

"It's all right, Theodore," she assured her husband. "We shall be able to confine the fire to the laundry; you won't be disturbed."

As she went out, gently closing the door after her, the professor remarked that Mrs. Ely was a good neighbor and a charming woman, but slightly impetuous.

"She ought to know by this time,"
said he, "that there is absolutely no necessity for me to meddle with household affairs. Dorothea is so entirely capable."—Youth's Companion.

COST HIM HIS DESSERT.

This little boy is so precocious that his parents call him Freshie.
"Mother," he observed the other day at luncheon, apropos of nothing at all, but in the presence of guests,
"you're awful fat."

"Hush!" whispered his father.
"That isn't polite. You shouldn't say such things to your mother."

"But it's true, isn't it?" insisted the kid.

"Well—er—never mind. You mustn't say it any more."

Freshie thought a while. Then he burst out again.

"Even if I don't say it," he argued, "the other people know it, don't they?"

That cost him his favorite dessert
—strawberry pie.

ELECTRIC CHURCH CROSS.

The gilded cross, 12 feet high by 9 feet wide, on the great steeple of St. Mel's church, Chicago, has its north and south faces outlined with 70 electric incandescent lamps, for illumination during church festivals.
The effect is very striking, even at great distances. The Louisville Roman Catholic cathedral and other churches will probably follow suit, as the innovation is giving rise to favorable comment among church people.—Popular Mechanics.

Who Was There That You Knew?

IN the shadowy ranks of those who marched to defeat or death or victory fifty years ago in the mighty conflict that convulsed this great nation, is there father or grandfather or uncle of yours? Would you like to see a photograph of him in that long ago day of his youth—a photograph that he never knew was taken? Perhaps we can show you one; and in any case, we can tell you a story, stranger than any detective fiction, of 3,500 priceless photographs that were lost and are found again.

3,500 Long Buried Photographs of the Civil War

THEY were taken by the greatest photographer in the United States of that day; they were bought by the United States Government for $30,000; they were buried in the War Department for 50 years—they are buried there still. But a duplicate set was kept by the photographer—who died poor and broken down; that duplicate set was knocked down from pillar to post for nearly 50 years, until it was discovered by a New England collector. J. Pierpont Morgan tried to secure the collection—Ex-President Garfield and General Benjamin F. Butler said it was worth $150,000—yet with the help of the REVIEW OF REVIEWS, the entire collection has been gathered into 10 great volumes and is placed within your reach at less than the value of one of the photographs.
It is the one accurate, impartial history of the Civil War—for the camera cannot lie. It tells the story of the War you never heard before. Taken under protection of the Secret Service, these photographs bring to light thousands of little-known phases of the war; they penetrate to strange places and record strange things.

THESE ARE YOUR ANCESTORS TO TAKE PLANT IMPRESSIONS

When One Considers Their Vast Number Pride of Descent Seems Very Foolish.

Are you proud of your ancestors? Of how many of them?

Since the beginning of the Christian era—a mere 1911 years—you have had 139,235,017,489,534,976 ancestors. Imagine, if you can, how many persons were needed since the beginning of the world to bring you forth—you, who are reading this now. It works the other way, too. If a single couple had started 5,000 years ago to populate the world, and everybody had grown to maturity and married at the age of 21, the earth's population would be 2,199,915, followed by 144 ciphers. However, this world would not hold them all; it would not be large enough. To give all these people breathing space the size of the world would have to be multiplied by 3,166,526, followed by 125 ciphers. That is the only way in which these enormous numbers can be expressed.

How futile, then, is ancestor worship! Every one of us, high or low, has had in his ancestry kings and peasants, criminals and saints; it is almost impossible to name any one of one's own race to whom one cannot prove in some way a remote relationship.

NOT UP TO EXPECTATIONS

Mankind and the World Frequently Disappointing to Hopeful Youth, Says Theodore Parker.

I suppose many of us are a little disappointed with mankind. The world of the girl's dream is not the world of the young woman's actual sight and touch, and still less is it so of the woman no longer young. In the moonlight of dreamy youth, as we look out of the windows and rejoice in the blooming apple trees, how different does the world seem from what we find it the next day, when in the heat of a May sun, we go about and remove the caterpillars from the scrubby trees. A boy bred in a wealthy family in a little village, secluded from the eyes of men, filling his consciousness with nature and the reflection of human life which deep poems and this great magnificent Bible and other religious books mirror down into his own soul, goes out into the world, and finds things very different from what they appeared when seen through the windows of the home which his father's and mother's affection colored with the rose and violet of their own nature.—Theodore Parker.

Two Methods That Result in Pictures Which Closely Resemble Good Steel Engravings.

Here is a way to take impressions of plants which will resemble steel engravings. Two of them, in fact; take your choice.

The first method is to take half a sheet of fine woven paper and cover its surface with sweet oil; let it stand a moment or two, rub off the superfluous oil and hang it in the air. When it is fairly dry, move it slowly over the flame of a candle, lamp or gas burner (caution) until it is quite black, lay the plant or leaf on it, place a clean piece of paper on top and rub equally with the fingers for about half a minute; then take up the plant and place it on the paper on which it is desired to leave an impression. Cover it with a piece of blotting paper and rub as before. The engraving-like impression will then appear.

By the second method, burn a common cork until it is reduced to a powder, add a teaspoonful of olive oil and mix into a thick paste. Next paint the under side of the leaf with a camel's hair brush, lay the leaf carefully, painted side down, upon a piece of clean paper, press it in a book under a strong and even weight for about a quarter of an hour and remove the leaf carefully from the paper. As before, the impression will appear thereon.

SHARP REPARTEE OF GILBERT

Famous Librettist Always Would Get the Better of the Actors at Rehearsals.

Gilbert's facile repartees came in useful at rehearsals. One afternoon a well-known actor had been made to repeat one scene over and over again. When he was told for the forty-seventh time that it was all wrong he stepped down to the footlights and said: "Mr. Gilbert, I must tell you that I'm not a very good tempered man." "No," said Gilbert, "neither am I." "Furthermore," the actor went on, "I'd like to have you know, Mr. Gilbert, that I'm a very strong man." "Well," said Gilbert, "I'm six feet four in my socks, but if you really want to know the difference between us—I am an extremely clever man."

There was another actor who objected to being continually corrected and snapped out: "Look here, Mr. Gilbert; I know my lines." "I know you do," answered Gilbert, "but the trouble is, dear boy, that you don't know mine."

Hunting Mona Lisa.

The Course Of Love.

New York, Sept. 8.—The declaration of two ministers to perform the marriage ceremony for John Jacob Astor and Miss Madeline Force, it is said, has completely disarranged the wedding plans, causing an indefinite postponement.

Killed By Bandits.

Pottsville, Pa., Sept. 8.—Jos Schnor, a contract miner, and his drive named Hopkins, were held up on a mountain near Nesquehoning, Pa., and shot dead.

A tin box containing a large sum of money intended for the payment of the wages of the Schnor employes was stolen. No tract of the highwaymen has been obtained.

Charge Dropped.

Hawesville, Ky., Sept. 8.—After trying the officials to lose no time in apprehending a thief who had made off with a valuable horse during the night, Barney Gardner, a farmer living near here, was rendered speechless when informed that the robber was his younger brother Robert, aged 23 years. The brother had not been heard from for two years.

It was learned by the marshal that Robert Gardner, after being absent from home and unheard of for two years, returned to Hawesville Tuesday night, slipped out to his brother's home after midnight, saddled up the horse and rode away without saying anything to his relatives.

O'Rear And Goebel's Assassins.

In his opening speech at Bowling Green Governor McCreary asks Mr. O'Rear this pertinent question: "Do You Indorse The Pardon by Governor Willson Of Taylor, Finley, Howard & Powers?"

As every other act of the Republican party finds a defender and apologist in Judge O'Rear, no doubt this wholesale turning out of accused and convicted assassins meets with his approval. Taylor and Howard are strong for O'Rear, and Powers, with the shadow of the noose still encircling his neck, will take the stump in his behalf.

The murder of Governor Goebel was the gravest crime ever committed in Kentucky. It left a stain on the Republican party which promoted and attempted to benefit by it, that eternity will not wipe out. The chief conspirators are free to clutter the earth, with Republican platitudes and seeks high offices while William Goebel lies a prisoner in his grave. They were turned out perhaps to seek fresh victims, by Gov. Augustus E. Willson, as a part of the disreputable bargain which placed him in the executive chair.

How can any Democrat who loves justice, or has a care for his party, or his state, contemplate such an act unmoved? O'Rear does not denounce murderers. They are helping to lead this fight. He has never uttered a word in condemnation of them.

When the assassins of William Goebel crawl out of their cells to conduct Republican Campaign, and tell clean handed, decent people how to vote, then the murder of Governor Goebel becomes an issue.

Take Cardui and be benefited by the peculiar herb ingredients which have been found so efficient for womanly ills. Cardui will relieve that backache, headache, and all the misery from which you suffer, just as it has done for others. Try Cardui.

The Bradley Millstone.

One of the most effective passages in Governor McCreary's opening speech was his exhortation of Judge O'Rear for his approval of the methods of which Bradley was elected to the Senate. It caught the favor of the immense crowd, and their approval echoes the sentiment of Democrats all over the State.

High Prices OF SUGAR

C. R. Clark & Co.

Hopkinsville, Ky.,
Gentlemen:—Replying to your favor of the 28th beg to advise you that we have shipped Car of Sugar which we hope will reach you in few days. We want to congratulate you on your lucky purchase, the market is up 61 points since you bought the last car, and doubtless there will be another advance before you receive this lot.

The advance is due wholly to the shortage of the Beet Crop of Europe which of course regulates the sugar prices of the world. It is variously estimated that there is an actual shortage of from 1 to 2 million tons, and this means a continuation of high prices for some time to come. The Louisiana Crop will not reach us until the middle of October and the Cuban Crop until December.

We appreciate your valuable business. Will be glad to serve you at any time.

Your friend,

WILLIAM ROWE.

MERCHANTS, FARMERS HOUSE-KEEPERS

If you want to buy sugar come and get our prices. We can save you money.

FLOUR:—It is our honest opinion that you will see higher prices on this staple product of the Mills.

We are the largest buyers of any concern that sells direct to the Farmers in Western Kentucky.

Why not let us have your orders? We appreciate them and handle Flour made out of wheat grown in this district.

MEAT:—Heavy meat has advanced considerably, but we were lucky as usual and have a large stock on hand—let us make you prices.

We want your business and will appreciate it.

SEBREE SPRINGS

Special September Rates Now in Effect.

Sebree, Ky., Sep. 7.—The special September rates which have been offered at $8.50 per week or $1.50 per day is filling up the Sebree Springs Hotel to its usual quota of guests, which at this season of the year is generally somewhat below par on account of school days. And by the way; those who come to the Springs during September and October should be doubly benefited because in these months the mineral properties of the waters are almost twice as strong.

Mr. R. S. Ambrose and family, of Henderson, who claim Sebree Springs as their summer abode, gave a watermelon feast to the guests Tuesday afternoon which was an enjoyable event. Mr. E. R. Conway and family, of Henderson, came Tuesday for a week's sojourn. Mrs. M. R. Givens, of Providence, who never fails to make her annual summer trip to Sebree Springs to be benefited by the waters, is here again. Bowling has excited the most enthusiasm the past week. Everybody makes a break for the club house immediately after breakfast, where the Bowling contest begins in earnest; each team boasting a captain. Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Schroeder, of Evansville, are among the popular bowlers, Mr. Schroeder on several occasions being chosen captain. An exploring party of guests viewing the magnificent cliffs a few days ago discovered a cave with two perfectly formed rooms, the height of one room measuring about seventy-five feet.

GOOD NERVES OF GAMBLERS

Necessary Part of the Professional Equipment, Without Which Success is Impossible.

"It has always been held that steady nerves are about the most valuable qualification a man can have to fit him for playing poker successfully," the gray-haired young looking man in the club smoking room said. "The man who allows himself to get rattled under any circumstances when he is playing is not likely to get the better of the other fellow. But if this is true now in New York it was more conspicuously and preeminently true some twenty or thirty years ago in some other parts of the country. And especially was it true with regard to professional gamblers."

"There is a widespread belief that a professional gambler will not hesitate to cheat at poker if he finds he is not likely to win a square game. And if this is true here and now, as I believe it to be, it has certainly been true at times and places in which public opinion tolerated it if it did not approve killing the man who was caught cheating at cards. That is precisely what public opinion did in many parts of the United States not so many years ago."

"All this being understood, it is easy to realize that the profession of card playing in the west called for the exercise of such nerves as the average man has not. He who adopted it was almost obliged to be skilled in the use of weapons, and as a matter of fact the most of the professionals were so skilled."

GENEROSITY ITS OWN REWARD.

A man went into a shoe store down town the other day and asked that he be given a new pair of shoes for the pair he had on, which he had bought four weeks before and which had broken out on the side. Without a word of dissent the proprietor fitted him with a new pair of shoes of the same style and cost, and then the man said:

"I think you ought to knock off a dollar or two."

"Why?" the shoe man asked.

"Because I already had those shoes broken in and now I have to break in a new pair again."

To what group, if any, the sun belongs, we do not yet know, but Delaney has presented reasons for thinking that those stars whose distances have been measured (that is to say, those which are nearest to us), group themselves around Sirius, the dog star, in a manner similar to that in which the inner planets are grouped around the sun. If this is correct, Sirius may possibly be the master sun of which our orb of day is a distant satellite.—Harper's Weekly.

FOOD FOR OUTING TRIPS

Corn Pone is Favorite With One Expert, Who Tells How to Make It.

You may have your own ideas about grub for short trips, but here are mine: Bacon, corn pone, tea, rice, Erbswurst, sugar, salt, pepper. To make the corn pone I mix at home, before starting, one quart of yellow granulated corn meal, one pint of white flour, one-half cup of sugar, one teaspoonful of salt, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder. In camp it should be mixed in the pan to make a fairly heavy batter and allowed to stand for a few minutes before frying, so that it becomes light and puffy. It should then be dropped by spoonfuls, without further stirring, into the hot, greased pan and not turned until the top has begun to set. The bacon grease takes the place of butter.

If less water is used the entire mixture may be put in the frying pan at once, baked from the bottom up over coals until the top has set and then turned. It makes delicious johnny cake. Try rolling the trout in a little of the dry mixture.—Warwick Carpenter, in Outing.

COMFORTING!

"My lad, I believe you intend to throw that mud at me!"
"Gee, mister! You're a reg'lar mind reader."

CALL TO DUTY.

What are you going to do, my brother men, for this higher side of human life? What contribution are you going to make of your strength, your time, your influence, your money, yourself, to make a cleaner, fuller, happier, larger, nobler life possible for some of your fellow men? I do not ask how you are going to do it. You may do it in business, in the law, in medicine, in the ministry, in teaching, in literature. But this is the question: What are you going to give personally to make the human life of the place where you do your work purer, stronger, brighter, better and more worth living? That will be your best part in the warfare against vice and crime.—Henry Van Dyke.

BACK TO CHILDHOOD.

"After childhood comes a knowledge of evil, or a sophisticate and unhealthy mode of life; or one produces the other, and both are embittered. Everything tells us to get back to a state of childhood—pain, pleasure, imagination, reason, passion, natural affection or piety, the better part of religion. If knowledge is supposed to be incompatible with it, knowledge would sacrifice herself, if necessary, to the same cause, for she also tells us to do so. But as a little knowledge first leads us away from happiness, so a greater knowledge may be destined to bring us back into a finer region of it."—Leigh Hunt.

THE HIGHER AIM.

As custom has given so large a proportion of wandering good things to Charles Lamb it would seem to be in good order to credit him with the appended bit of whimsical wisdom which certainly bears the earmarks of "Elia," although St. James Budget, from which it is quoted, does not vouch for its authenticity:

Some one, it is said, complained to him that a certain writer "constantly aimed at wit."

"At any rate," Lamb returned, "that is better than aiming at dullness."

THE ABANDONED TOWN.

Tourist—You must get a lot of conventions and parades here, with these nice wide streets of yours.

Citizen—We don't get a one! Look at the distance you'd have to run from the center of the line to a saloon!—Puck.

PATHETIC LETTER OF POE

Reputation for Inebriety Was Source of Much Pain to Great Poet.

An ancient controversy, to which no little interest is still attached, both on account of sentiment and of curiosity, has been revived through the publication of one of Edgar Allen Poe's autograph letters, recently disposed of at the sale of the Poe literary collection. In this letter Poe says of himself:

"The fact is that my habits are abstemious and omit nothing for health. I rise early, eat moderately, drink nothing but water, and take abundant and regular exercise in the open air. But this is my private life, and, of course, escapes the eye of the world. The desire for society comes on me only when I have become excited by drink. Then only I go—that is, at these times only, I have been in the practice of going among my friends, who seldom or, in fact, never, have seen me, unless excited, take it for granted that I am always so. Those that really know me know better."

There is something pathetic in this appeal for kindly judgment to a group of witnesses so restricted as to eliminate those whom he calls his friends! It leaves virtually but two, his delicate young wife and her mother, and it may be well to remember that these two in their testimony to the unhappy genius confirm his statements to the smallest detail.

IRREVERENT YOUTH

"Why, my boy, did you fall in that open coal hole?"
"Naw; 'course not. I wuz in here an' dey built a pavement over me."

LISTON'S TRIUMPH.

The description of the first operation under ether in Europe is given by Dr. F. William Cook in the University College Hospital Magazine, and the scene is referred to as the "most dramatic ever enacted in which medical men grouped the stage." The operation was performed by Robert Liston, December 21, 1846. "At 2:15 Liston enters; that magnificent figure of a man, 6 feet 2 inches in height, and says: 'We are going to try a Yankee dodge today, gentlemen, for making men insensible'—so Liston introduced ether to a London hospital." The subject was a man 36 years old, whose thigh was amputated. The operation was successful and Liston uttered the epilogue: "This Yankee dodge, gentlemen, beats mesmerism all hollow."

WHERE ELOQUENCE ABIDES.

True eloquence, indeed, does not consist in speech. It cannot be brought from far. Labor and learning may toil for it, but they will toil in vain. Words and phrases may be marshaled in every way, but they cannot compass it. It must consist in the man, in the subject, and in the occasion. Affected passion, intense expression, the pomp of declamation, all may aspire to it; they cannot reach it. It comes, if it comes at all, like the outbursting of a fountain from the earth or the bursting of volcanic fires, with spontaneous, original native force.—Daniel Webster: Discourse, Faneuil Hall, Boston, August 2, 1826.

INTERESTED.

Wednesday's Games.

Hopkinsville 1-2; Jackson 0-1.
Henderson 2; Clarksville 0.

Hopkinsville took the entire series from Jackson, making 6 straight winnings. It was intended to play off a postponed game due Hopkinsville as a double-header Thursday but the second game was stopped in Hopkinsville's half of the first inning by a hard rain.

The double-header games Wednesday were both close, only four runs being made in both games.

Thursday's game was an easy victory for Hopkinsville, Jackson using two pitchers in a fruitless attempt to save the day.

Yesterday the Moguls went to Henderson for a series with that ambitious bunch.

Three new men went with the team, Glass the new pitcher who takes McArthur's place, the latter having quit to return to school; Wise a second-baseman and Penny an outfielder. In Thursday's game Wise singled, made a home run and got a walk, making 3 of the 9 runs. Penny secured a single.

There are only 15 more games to be played.

Fulton is practically sure to win the second pennant.

Flies And Bunts.

The Frankfort baseball club is in hard lines and it will take private subscriptions to save the franchise.

Hopkinsville and Vincennes are the only two teams to play here before the season is over. There is not a cleaner team in the league than Hopkinsville, as for Vincennes—well, better nothing said.

Clarksville fans feel like thirty cents since Hopkinsville defeated them in the championship.—Cairo Bullitin.

At Vincennes Wednesday Wolfe made a home run in both games of a double-header.

Clarksville has a new pitcher named Hale, who is 6 feet 5 inches tall.

Fulton plays 6 games with Vincennes, 3 with Clarksville and 6 with Hopkinsville. Hopkinsville plays 4 with Henderson, 6 with Cairo and 6 with Fulton, counting yesterday's games.

Col. Geo. W. Bain is one of the strong and lovable men of the platform. He has high moral purpose in all his work. I have been using him for years at my Chautauquas whenever I can get him. Unfortunately his time is so fully taken that I cannot always get him. If I could I would have him every year. He has given my patrons as complete satisfaction as any man whom I have ever saw. I repeat him year after year simply because my patrons demand it. If you have never used him, try him once and you will be made very happy.

Registration of the Shetland Pony.

Many persons do not realize the full value of the registration of the Shetland ponies. This is done to serve various purposes. A very important point in breeding is to look back over the pedigrees and to find out the valuable points, size and color of the ancestors, in order to mate certain animals to the best advantage.

Anyone can take pride in tracing some of his stock to some of the greatest of Shetland ponies like Mul-tum in Parvo, Giant, bred by Lord Londonderry; Black, bred by the Countess of Hopetown; Lord of The Isles, Odin, Sir Henry—a larger type—and others.

There is also in the stud book of the Shetland Islands a description of these great individuals, which were nearly all owned by Lord Londonderry, and some of their blood is found in nearly every herd of this country, but there is also mentioned their show records.

I would state, for example, if a breeder wants to breed small ponies, he not only should select small individuals, but they should also be descendants of small animals on both sides for about five or six generations back.

There are only registered animals admitted in all the principal horse and stock shows in this country, and every breeder should have registered ponies for this reason alone; otherwise, he will be excluded from all these shows.

Registered ponies nearly always will bring a higher price than others if sold for breeding purposes and to particular buyers. Registration is also the only proof that a Shetland is pure-bred, as even some of the imported ones are mixed sometimes, as there are other ponies—the Iceland and Exmoor ponies—just as small and similar to the Shetland.

Weak, Cold Spells.

Wilmington, N. C.—Mrs. Cora L. Ritter, of this place, says: "I used to have headaches, and blind dizzy spells, and weak cold spells went all over me. I had different doctors, but they were unable to tell me what was wrong, so I began to take Cardui. I am now allright, in good health, and better than I have been for ten years." Cardui is a remedy for women, which has been helping sick women for nearly a life time.

You can absolutely rely upon it. Other people have done the testing and you should profit by their experience. Cardui has benefited a million women. Why not you? Begin taking Cardui today.

QUAINT WEDDING IN ENGLAND.

A quaint Singalese wedding took place at Sunderland, Eng., recently at an exhibition, where a large number of natives are appearing. The ceremony was according to Mahomedan rites and was witnessed by a large crowd. The bride was aged fourteen and the bridegroom twenty. The bridal pair were followed by a grotesquely attired native wearing a mask with horns to represent a bull, the lucky animal of the tribe. The leading feature of the ceremony was a lengthy "haggle" between the bridegroom and the bride's father as to the price to be paid for the bride.

What He Was Thinking About.

A grandfather of a South Philadelphia home walked into the sitting room and found his grandson in deep thought.

"John," he said, "I will give you a nickel if you will tell me what you are thinking about."

No effect was produced on the grandson at all.

"I say, John, I will give you a quarter if you will tell me," said the grandfather.

With that remark the grandson jumped up and demanded the money, which was readily turned over to him.

"I was thinking, grandpa," he said, "how I could earn some money without working for it."
